

Geolocation sampling is basin selection: direction chooses the basin, magnitude only the speed within it

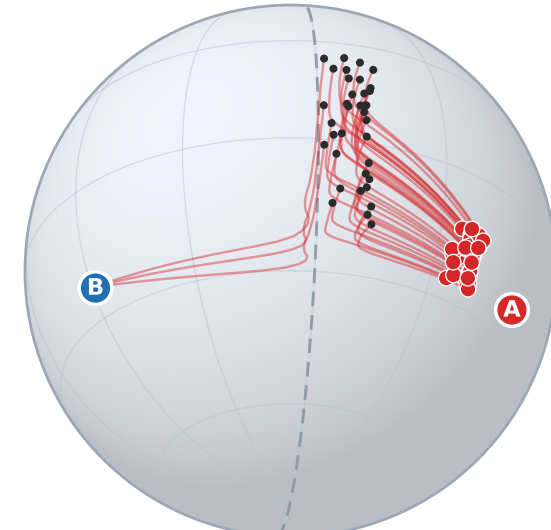

Nominal ($n = 36$ runs)

Direction-deviated ($s = 0.5$)

Magnitude-deviated ($s = 0.5$)

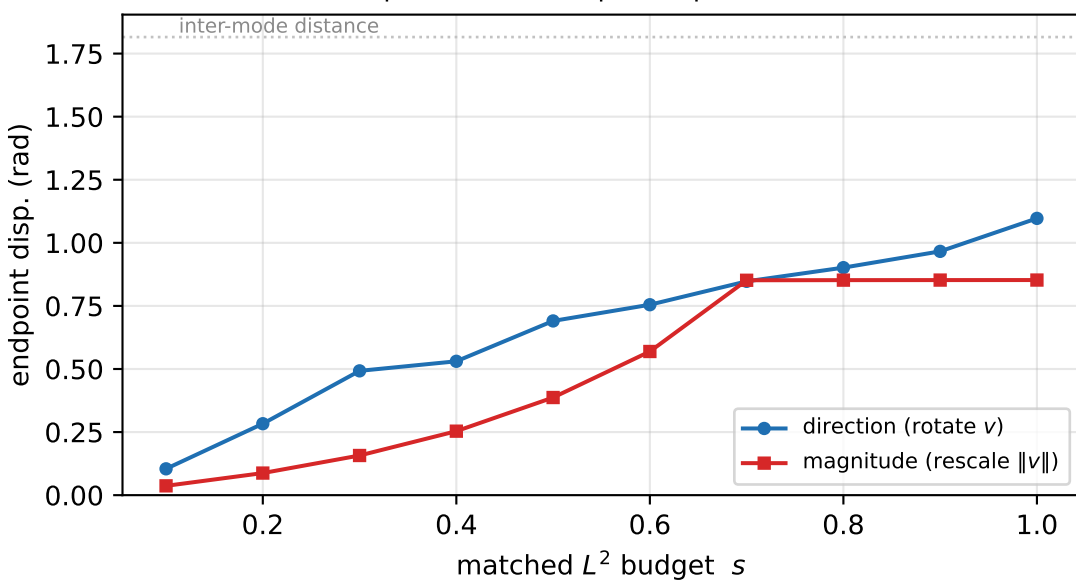

all commit to basin A

86% flip to basin B

8% flip (stays in A)

Displacement vs equal- L^2 perturbation

How often the predicted mode changes

